

HAPPY HOUR CHAMBER CONCERTS IN-PERSON CONCERTS COVID POLICY

- All tickets for in-person attendance will be sold online from <https://HappyHourConcerts.org/>. There will be no tickets sold at the door.
- The in-person audience for a concert will be limited to 40 persons maximum. Once that maximum has been reached, in-person ticket sales will be closed. All tickets must be purchased before noon of the day of the concert.
- Cost of each in-person ticket is $20. Persons under eighteen years of age may attend for free, but they will also need a ticket; if you would like a youth ticket, please follow the directions that will be included in your ticket confirmation email and respond within 24 hours after receiving it. Youth tickets will be counted and applied to the in-house maximum attendance.
- There will be open seating for the concert.
- We have been monitoring the policies of Epiphany Lutheran Church, the CDC, local health authorities, and the best practices of major performing arts organizations in our area to provide safety during the pandemic. Happy Hour Concerts and Epiphany Lutheran Church no longer require signed waivers for in-person concert attendance. We ask ticket holders to be either fully vaccinated or to have received a negative COVID test result within 24 hours before the concert. We also ask in-person attendees to come to the concert free of COVID symptoms. Facial masks are encouraged but not required. There will be no checking of vaccine status at the door. If a ticket holder has developed COVID symptoms after purchasing a ticket, the cost of the ticket will be refunded upon request.
- For now, there will be no snack or beverage service at concerts.
- By purchasing a ticket, you indicate you understand that there are continuing personal risks for COVID infection by attending a concert, and you have accepted those risks as part of your ticket purchase and attendance at the concert.
- COVID policies may be modified as pandemic conditions change; they can also be modified at the request of our performers.
